

Will Enos Bio

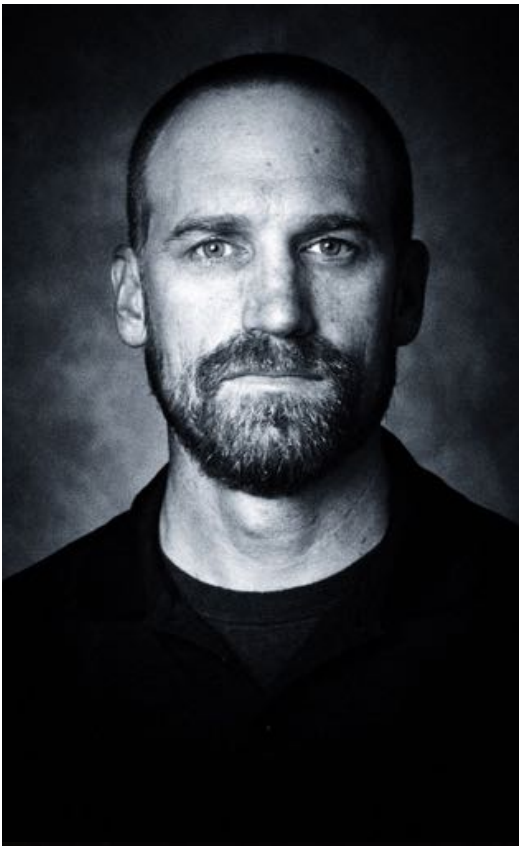

Will's career has spanned over 43 years working as a full-time professional photographer. Having the ability to produce photographs for clients was truly a gift. The majority of his work during the 43+ years was in the genre of Advertising and Marketing. Will produced photographs for a large variety of clients. Fortune 500, industrial, agricultural, and engineering companies, as well as a selection of national magazines.

At this point in time, he is now searching for his photographic visuals by wandering off the beaten path. No matter whether it is a viciously cold morning before the sun peaks above the horizon or after the sunlight falls in the west, it is always the right time for a walkabout in search

Beth Enos Bio

Beth is relatively new to photography, becoming serious about her focus in art over the past three years. She submitted photographs to the 17th, 18th and 19th editions of the "Julia Margaret Cameron Award for Women Photographers" as a non-professional and received awards for 11 black and 5 color photographs over the three episodes of Julia Cameron. One of Beth's award-winning color photographs from Julia Cameron was selected by FotoNostrum Mediterranean House of Photography in Barcelona, Spain to hang throughout the month of October 2022.

Earlier this year one of Beth's photographs sold through "Your Daily Photograph" which is a subscription service connected to the Duncan Miller Gallery and curator Daniel Miller in Los Angeles. The service sends out 10,000 worldwide emails daily at 9am featuring 3 photographs selected by Daniel Miller. Each of the photographs included are for sale. Featured photographers range from Henri Cartier-Bresson to compelling unknown talent.
